

Photo resources

- 1 Shopping street in a Turkish tourist resort.
Measuring global interactions: Tourism is a major aspect of global interaction.
- 2 Tourist police guarding a cruise ship on the river Nile.
Measuring global interactions: As with economic activity, terrorism has become global in its extent. Tourism in Egypt has been the subject of attacks on a number of occasions.
- 3 The embassy of Kuwait in London, UK.
Measuring global interactions: Diplomatic connections are a vital part of global interaction.
- 4 Winter on a farm in Mongolia.
Measuring global interactions: Winters are severe in this part of the global periphery.
- 5 Eurostar train.
Changing space – the shrinking world: The Eurostar rail network has significantly reduced the time taken to travel by rail from London to Paris and Brussels.
- 6 Container ship on the river Rhine.
Changing space – the shrinking world: The Rhine river system is an important avenue for trade for adjacent countries.
- 7 China Post.
Changing space – the shrinking world: Postal services are an important aspect of the shrinking world.
- 8 Public transport in Brussels.
Environmental change: Public transport is a uniform part of most urban landscapes although there are considerable differences in the degree and detail.
- 9 Man and horse in traditional dress at an ice festival in Mongolia.
Sociocultural exchanges: The wearing of traditional dress on special occasions helps to maintain culture.
- 10 Korean shop in New Malden, London.
Sociocultural exchanges: New Malden with its large Korean population has been referred to as an ethnic village.
- 11 Women with head coverings in Turkey.
Sociocultural exchanges: Head covering for women is an important religious and cultural factor in many countries.
- 12 An Irish pub and Coca-Cola in central Asia.
Sociocultural exchanges: Popular brands have a global reach.
- 13 The Houses of Parliament, UK.
Political outcomes: The UK, like other member countries, has ceded a degree of sovereignty to the European Union.

- 14 Allied Irish Bank, Dublin.
Political outcomes: Massive EU support to prop up the Irish banking system is seen as a considerable loss of sovereignty by many people in Ireland and elsewhere.
- 15 Anti-globalisation placard in Dublin.
Political outcomes: The huge problems created in Ireland by the 2008–10 recession resulted in a wave of political protest.
- 16 Malham Smithy: maintaining local skills in a Yorkshire village.
Global interactions at the local level: Carrying on local skills is important in maintaining community structure.
- 17 Neighbourhood Watch sign.
Global interactions at the local level: Organisations such as Neighbourhood Watch can strengthen local communities and help maintain a strong sense of identity.
- 18 Local bakery with mobility scooter outside.
Global interactions at the local level: Local services remain of great importance to their communities, particularly for people with limited mobility.
- 19 HSBC advertising poster in China.
Global interactions at the local level: HSBC markets itself as a local bank all over the world – a clear example of glocalisation.

Photographs reproduced by kind permission of Chris Guinness (images 4 and 9) and Paul Guinness (all other images).